CITY DEPARTMENT UPDATES

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Community Development Department Starts Work on Its 5-Year Plan

Every five years HUD requires the City to undertake a review and assessment of its housing, community development and economic development needs, identify goals and strategies, and put them all together in a document called "The Consolidated Plan."

The City of Lawrence, through its Community Development Department, is undertaking a community engagement effort to solicit resident input on community needs and priorities. We launched this on October 15th, when seniors gathered at the Lawrence Senior Center were asked to talk about what they liked about their neighborhoods and what they would like to see changed.

This conversation was part of the City of Lawrence Community Development Department's efforts to obtain information directly from residents, and combine that information with data we get from the Census and other research. The City is looking for opportunities to engage residents, business leaders and owners, educators, service providers, and nonprofit leaders, in a conversation about priority needs in the community. Conversations can be incorporated into existing meetings or can be stand-alone sessions. They can be in English or Spanish. Findings from these conversations will shape the City's preparation of its five year Consolidated Plan.

The Community Development Department has engaged two individuals to assist us: Kathleen Lingenberg and Peggy Sand. If you would like to invite one of them to a conversation, please contact James Barnes at jbarnes@cityoflawrence.com or Marisol Colon at mcolon@cityoflawrence.com.

FIRE

On Saturday, October 4, the Lawrence Fire Department hosted an annual open house. This event allows citizens to meet and greet the firefighters of Lawrence, see the City's fire equipment, and receive valuable fire safety tips. As in past years, the Fire Prevention division put on a "smoke house" display and training for any child (or adult) who wished to enter. This "house" is actually a purpose-built house trailer that contains a miniaturized version of a home layout. In this trailer a harmless "smoke" can be introduced and the children taught the correct procedure to exit a burning building. A firefighter is always present inside this trailer for the comfort of the children. Smoke detector and fire safety tips are also taught in this scenario. The day was a great success in combining fun and entertainment with the serious message of fire prevention.

PLANNING

Governor Deval Patrick announced a new round of MassWorks Infrastructure Program grants on October 21, 2014 to advance local development projects across the state. The City of Lawrence received $3.925 million for the Merrimack Street Corridor Improvement Project, which will allow for further revitalization of the area. Infrastructure work will include roadway and traffic signal improvements, sidewalks, bicycle lanes, covered bus shelters, repaving and pedestrian crossings. Lawrence's award is one of 31 grants totaling over $66 million in improvement projects that will support thousands of jobs in Massachusetts communities. Through these grants, the Patrick Administration is partnering with cities and towns to make targeting investments in infrastructure such as roadways, streetscapes, water and sewers to facilitate and support new and sustained housing and economic growth throughout Massachusetts.

"Filling our mills with jobs is crucial to getting our people back to work and the MassWorks grant will help build-up our aging infrastructure to support commercial development and attract more jobs to Lawrence. I'm grateful to Governor Patrick and Secretary Bialecki for recognizing Lawrence's untapped potential and helping to unlock it by awarding us with this MassWorks grant," said Mayor Dan Rivera.

MassWorks is administered by the Executive Office of Housing and Economic Development and represents a consolidation of six capital budget programs, giving communities a single entry point and one set of requirements for the state's public infrastructure grants. The consolidation created efficiencies and streamlined the decision-making process, increasing access for municipalities and enhancing partnerships around economic development and housing.

WATER

Woodard & Curran, a firm hired by the City of Lawrence, and its subcontractor, Flow Assessment Services, will be conducting smoke testing of the sanitary sewer in your area. The testing is necessary to ensure the proper performance of sewer collection facilities. During this procedure, smoke will be venting through holes in manhole covers located in the street and through plumbing vent pipes located on or near the surface of your roof. This is normal and should not be cause for alarm; please remember the smoke is non-toxic and non-staining. If you should have any question or concerns, contact Water & Sewer Commissioner, Brian Peña at 978-620-3588.
